Introduction:

Dear Graduate,

The Education and Training Evaluation Commission warmly invites you to participate in this survey to gather your feedback on the knowledge and skills you acquired, the effectiveness of the academic programs you studied, and how your current career aligns with them.

By sharing your honest opinion, you will play a vital role in helping to enhance the quality of education for future graduates and ensure that they achieve their full potential. This will directly contribute to achieving sustainable development, along with the national goals of this beloved country in general and the education sector in particular.

Since we care about our graduates, you can benefit from a free training course (including a certificate of attendance) in the following areas: Data analysis using Python, Artificial Intelligence applications with Python, Business Intelligence using Power BI, Internet of Things, Communication skills and Emotional Intelligence, Goal setting and building Key Performance Indicators, Preparation for the IELTS test, Administrative development fields for graduates, How to build your English skills quickly, and Statistical analysis skills using SPSS.

Your participation is highly appreciated!
